19 Persons Injured In District Highway Accidents

Salem Girl Struck by Car On Benton Rd.

Six Teen-Agers Hurt In Mishap Near East Palestine

A 16-year-old Salem girl was among 19 persons injured, some seriously, in a rash of traffic accidents on area highways over the weekend.

Patty Ann Abblett, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Abblett of the Benton Rd., is in serious condition at Youngstown South Side Hospital with a fractured skull and multiple cuts and bruises received when she was struck by a car in front of her home at 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

Running Across Road

The girl was running across the road to pick up the Sunday paper from the mail box when she was struck by the car near the center of the road. The state highway patrol said she ran into the path of the car driven by Barbara J. Crawford, 21, of Akron.

Miss Abblett was taken to Salem Central Clinic before being transferred to South Side. She has remained unconscious since the accident which occurred in Mahoning County, about a mile northwest of the Columbiana County line.

Six teenagers from the East Palestine-New Waterford area were hurt when the car in which they were riding went out of control, rolled over and crashed into a utility pole on Township Rd. 958 (back road to Unity), just north of East Palestine, at 5:05 p.m. Sunday.

Transferred To Youngstown

All six of the injured were brought to Salem City Hospital, but two were transferred later to South Side in Youngstown.

Injured were: Melvin Hess, 19, of Metz Rd., New Waterford, sprained right shoulder.

Gary Hess, 16, cousin of Melvin, laceration of chin, abrasions of face and chest and possible concussion.

Larry Hess, 15, brother of Gary, possible skull fracture.

Carol Guy, 14, of 43 E. Martin St., East Palestine, multiple abrasions of face and arms.

Susan Gorby, 13, of 99 N. Sumner St., East Palestine, possible fractured skull.

Joyce Gorby, 17, sister of Susan, severe lacerations of scalp, neck and right cheek.

Girl's Condition Serious

Larry Hess and Susan Gorby were transferred to South Side Hospital where the girl is listed in serious condition and the boy in fair condition. Both have head injuries.

The other four teenagers are listed in fairly good condition at the clinic.

According to the patrol, Melvin Hess was driving the car south on Rt. 958 when it went left of center, sheared off a utility pole and upset. The accident occurred about a quarter of a mile north of the East Palestine city limits. The car was demolished.

Edward Gorgei, 18, of RD 1, North Jackson, is in fair condition at Youngstown South Side Hospital.

Cardinal Named To Vatican Position

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today named Amleto Giovanni Cardinal Cicognani, for 25 years the apostolic delegate to the United States, to be his new secretary of state.

Cardinal Cicognani succeeds Domenico Cardinal Tardini, who died suddenly July 30.

The new Vatican secretary of state is 78, born Feb. 24, 1883, at Brighella, near Faenza, in northern Italy.

He served for 23 years in the Vatican Curia before going to Washington for his long assignment there.

Cardinal Cicognani also was named president of the Cardinal Commission for Government of the state of Vatican City, in effect the mayor of the 108-acre city state. In this office he succeeds

Red Tape Hampers Return Of Airliner

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is slashing through the red tape that binds dealings with Cuba in preparation for the return of a hijacked Eastern Airlines plane.

In an agreement between the two countries, the United States will release a Cuban patrol boat to Cuba while Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro lets an American crew fly the plane to the United States.

Declaration Signing Final Act At Talks

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — Western Hemisphere statesmen put finishing touches today on a historic declaration allying the American states in a mighty push for progress.

President Kennedy's Alliance for Progress program will become a reality Wednesday when ministers of 20 American states—and perhaps 21—gather for a ceremonial signing of the Declaration of Punta del Este. It will be the final act in the Inter-American Economic Conference which has been meeting here since Aug. 5.

The declaration will put into motion Kennedy's program designed to pump $20 billion into Latin American economies in a determined move to hold back the double threat of communism and Castroism.

A U.S. source said Kennedy's representatives at the Inter-American Economic Conference feel strongly that the alliance will inspire Latin Americans to help themselves. Self-help is one of the most important aspects of participation in the program.

"Most of the nations realize," the informant said, "that if they are going to develop at all, they must mobilize their own resources. There is a realization that many countries, by the very term 'underdeveloped' being applied to them, are urgently in need of technical assistance in

Rev. Winn Re-Elected By Friends

Rev. Harold B. Winn, pastor of the Salem First Friends Church, was re-elected superintendent of the Damascus Quarterly Meeting of Friends at the Saturday session held in the Canton First Friends Church.

Clerks re-elected were: Herman C. Stratton of Salem, presiding clerk; Mrs. Frank Brantingham of Alliance, recording clerk; and Miss Gladys Haldeman of Alliance reading clerk.

Superintendents were named as follows: Missions, Mrs. Charles Matti of Beloit; peace, Earl Cosand of Beloit; Christian education, Rev. Douglas Jones of Deerfield.

Fred Chambers of Damascus and Miss Theda Cosand of Damascus were named treasurer and statistician, respectively.

A memorial was read for Miss Anna Haldeman, a member of the Damascus Church for 52 years, who died in June. She was associated with the Friends Book Concern for many years.

The annual report revealed that the 15 area churches in the Quarterly meeting, have a total membership of 2,271, a gain over last year. Total contributions for the year amounted to $249,866.

Guest speaker for the morning session was Rev. Clifton J. Robinson of New Delhi, India, Friends minister at large in India. His brother, Rev. George Robinson, pastor of the Southeast Friends Church, was leader for the prayer and praise service.

Miss Anna Nixon, who is completing her furlough and will return to India Wednesday, gave a short talk. Rev. Bryan Teague of Brewster was song leader, and also sang a solo, "When Jesus Came."

announced only Saturday, the airliner and the patrol boat are expected to head for their homes Tuesday. This means a speed-up in clearing an Eastern Airlines crew for travel to Havana. Normally, an American has to follow an involved procedure in getting to Cuba.

The two countries no longer have diplomatic relations, and travel to Cuba for Americans generally is barred. On special occasions, the U.S. government permits such travel, but a visa has to be obtained from Cuba, and this is done through a third country which has dealings with the United States and the Castro government.

The U.S. government also is prepared to ask the Florida courts to give the patrol boat immunity. Charles R. Ashmann, an attorney for Harris & Co., a Florida advertising agency, has said this company obtained a Circuit Court order tying up the 40-foot, $50,000 craft last week. He said Sunday night the boat "isn't going anywhere Tuesday" without a State Department request for its release.

Harris has been seizing Cuban property wherever he found it in Florida to satisfy a $429,000 judgment he won in prosecution of a claim against Cuba. The claim was based on an advertising bill incurred by the Cuban Tourist Commission.

In the U.S. note to Cuba, released here Saturday, the United States said its policy is "where property of a foreign government has been made subject to court process in the United States . . . to indicate to the court that the United States government recognizes that such property is immune from execution to satisfy a judgment against the foreign government."

Joseph W. Reap, a State Department press officer, said Sunday night he knew of no change in the arrangement to turn the vessel over to Cuban technicians and seamen at Key West Tuesday.

Three Cuban refugees sailed the patrol boat SV8 into Key West July 29. The $3.2-million four-engine Electra was on a Miami-to-Tampa, Fla., run July 24 when a gun-toting passenger forced the pilot to fly it to Havana. The Cuban government was not directly involved. Castro released the 32 passengers and 5 crewmen but kept the plane and the hijacker a naturalized American of Cuban birth.

Agreement to return the plane and patrol boat was worked out in a series of notes through Swiss channels.

CONDITIONS IMPROVED

Mrs. Ellen Nordquist, 67, and Mrs. Jean Duvall, 51, both of Alliance, are listed in fairly good condition at the Central Clinic.

They had been in critical condition following a two-car crash on the Tower Rd., about three miles southwest of Salem, at 5:25 p.m. Thursday. Mrs. Nordquist's husband, Anton, 76, of RD 4, Alliance, was killed in the accident.

JFK Summons Thompson For Berlin Confab

President Also Sets Talk With Rusk On Refugee Blockade

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy summoned Llewellyn E. Thompson, U.S. ambassador to Moscow, to confer today on the Berlin crisis—intensified over the weekend by Red measures to cut off the flow of refugees from East Germany into West Berlin.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who also was expected to consult with Kennedy on the increasingly dangerous Berlin situation, denounced the Red crackdown on travel between East and West Berlin as a "flagrant violation" of agreements by Russia to permit free circulation within the city and between Berlin and the rest of Germany.

In a statement issued at the State Department Sunday, Rusk called the flight of thousands of Germans in recent weeks from Communist rule a proof of "the failures of communism in East Germany." And he said it was because of these "failures" that the Soviet Union and East Germany have embarked on "the dangerous course of threats against the freedom and safety of West Berlin."

The White House announced that Kennedy would see Thompson on the President's return from his summer home at Hyannis Port, Mass. State Department officials said they expected Rusk to accompany the envoy to the meeting.

Thompson came to Washington with Rusk late last week after the secretary's consultations in Paris with Allied leaders on the Berlin situation.

Rusk announced in the statement he made Sunday afternoon that the Communist crackdown on the flight of refugees "will be the subjects of vigorous protests through appropriate channels." Consultations were started immediately with Britain and France, and officials said that the protest would be made by the Western military commanders in West Berlin.

A British government issued a brief statement paralleling that made by Rusk. The British called the Red restrictions illegal because they are contrary to the four-power status of Berlin.

Dispatches from Berlin itself described the situation there as very tense, with the danger of a

Calls Columbus 'Lobbyland'

DiSalle Criticizes Gas Rate Increase Request

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Criticizing a request by the East Ohio Gas Co. for a $34 million rate increase, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said here Sunday that public utilities are enjoying a favored position in Ohio.

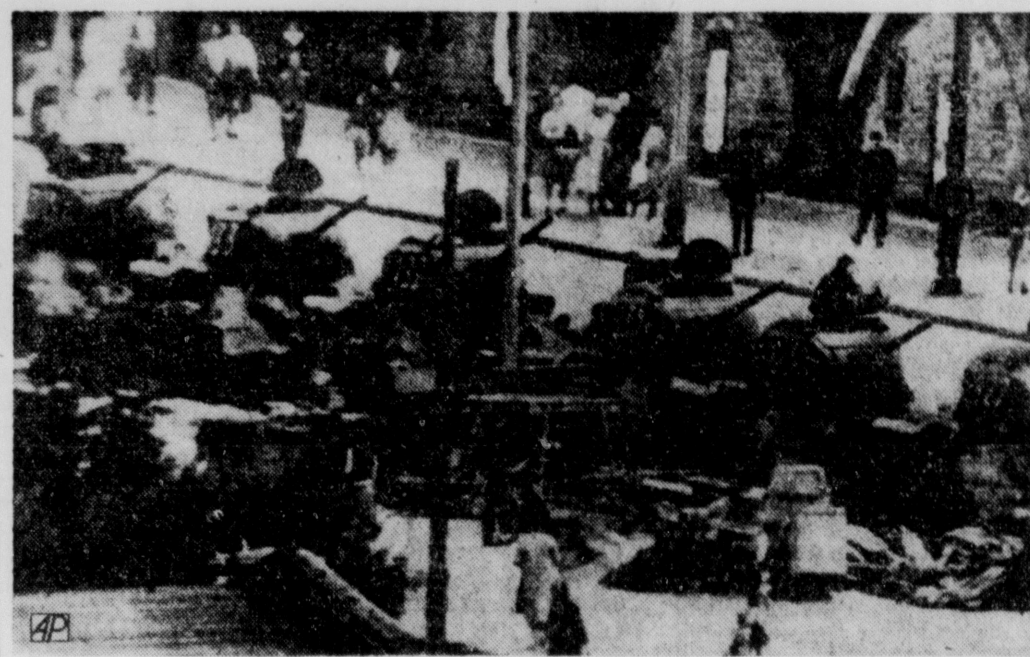

Addressing about 1,000 Lake County Democrats in Painesville Twp. Park, the governor said the rate formula for utilities must be changed. He criticized the Republican-controlled state legislature for not having helped to change it, as he said the Democrats wanted to do.

"I no longer call it Columbus down there," the governor said, speaking of the state capital. "I call it lobbyland. If the people are to be served, give us a Democratic legislature."

Declaring that he was not inclined to be a demagogue, DiSalle said he realized that business has to make a profit to stay in business and that "business has to have a fair return on its investment."

Niles Youth Held After Killing Uncle

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — A 16-year-old Niles youth with a history of mental illness was held without charge in Trumbull County jail here today in the fatal stabbing of his uncle.

Sheriff's deputies said James Kauffman was playing cards with his father, Oliver W., at their home Saturday night when the youth suddenly broke a window, picked up a sliver of glass and went to his uncle's home several blocks away and stabbed him with the glass.

Lesler James, 56, was stabbed through the heart when he answered the door.

William Loftus, turnkey at the jail, said young Kauffman told him he didn't mean to kill his uncle, "just hurt him." Loftus said the youth told a deputy his uncle wouldn't pay him some money he owed.

Police said young Kauffman was a former mental patient at Woodside Receiving Hospital in Youngstown.

McCloy Cites New Plan For Disarmament

NEW YORK (AP) — John J. McCloy, President Kennedy's chief adviser on disarmament, says the United States is working on a far-reaching disarmament plan that should be ready this fall.

Asked whether the United States could produce a plan as dramatic as the Soviet proposal for complete disarmament, McCloy said: "I think we can, and I think we have one which is just as sincere, if not more so."

McCloy, appearing Sunday night on NBC-TV's "Meet the Press," said the plan is being discussed with this country's allies and that it would be premature to reveal the details.

He conceded that the world might never be able to get "a 100 per cent control system"—that the Soviet Union might be able to conceal some nuclear bombs.

"But," he added, "if we can reduce the weapons down to a point where there is only a remote possibility of being able to hide one or two, then I think an international police force or some other peace-keeping machinery might be erected which would justify our confidence in reducing our arms to a very drastic degree."

He said Communist China would be brought in on any plan for "drastic disarmament."

War Threat Feared Over Any Uprising

East Berlin Masses 30,000 Troops At 'New Iron Curtain'

BERLIN (AP)—Thousands of Communist police and battle-ready troops today barricaded East Berlin against escapes to the West as tensions and tempers rose to a danger point on both sides of the new Iron Curtain.

The Red clampdown was effective at least for the moment in damming the flood of refugees. Only about 25 to 30 made it across the border Sunday after a record of 4,100 crossed from noon Saturday until the Communists closed the border to East Germans before dawn Sunday.

The 80,000 East Berliners who work in the Western sector failed to show up at their jobs this morning—the first working day since the Reds barred all East Germans from travel to the West unless they got a special permit. So far there was no evidence any permits were being issued.

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt reported that Red police went into action against a group of East Berliners protesting the restriction Sunday, but West Berlin police said they had no word of any disturbances in the Soviet Zone today.

Apparently there was no immediate attempt by the workers to defy the ban, but many in the West feared an uprising that might draw the Western Allies and the Soviet Union into war.

So apparently did the Communists. The troops massed in East Berlin—estimated by some Western sources at about 30,000—were told by their officers President Kennedy, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, and Brandt planned to ignite a revolt and it was their job to put it down if it developed.

Uprising Possible

The admission of the possibility of an uprising was unusual since the East German rulers usually claim support from the broad masses.

Skirmishes broke out between angry West Berliners and Communist People's Police Sunday at several points along the 25-mile border that cuts the city in half. Thousands of West Berliners massed along the border, shouting insults at the Red guards.

A high West German police official at the Brandenburg Gate—formerly one of the main escape routes for refugees—said the situation had become so tense "it just needs a spark to set the crowd off. I hope nothing will happen."

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer appealed to all Germans "to resist this challenge from the East with determination but calmness and not to undertake anything that could only worsen the situation."

Promises Counter-Measures He promised Allied counter-measures but did not say what they would be. Many expect they will be economic sanctions against the East German regime, already troubled by shortages in food, material and manpower.

Sources in Bonn, however, considered it unlikely that the West German government would retaliate.

Three Killed In Colorado Plane Crash

SALIDA, Colo. (AP) — Tears glistened in Kevin McKnight's eyes, but the boy managed a smile.

He even cried a little when searchers found him, strapped in the wreckage of an airplane near the top of a mountain. His right leg and right shoulder were broken.

"But he was plucky as a bantam rooster," Sheriff Harold Thonoff said. "Boy, he has guts."

Kevin, 6, of Tulsa, Okla., was the only sign of life in the small twin-engine plane which had carried three persons, including his father and oldest brother, to their deaths.

Heading for a vacation at a dude ranch in southwestern Colorado, they flew into heavy clouds before crashing at an altitude of 10,900 feet.

For 27 hours — until searchers found him late Sunday — Kevin stayed awake, alone and in pain.

His father, Tulsa patent attorney Charles M. McKnight, 56, was dead at the controls. Mary Alice Wallace, 38, a family friend, was dead beside him.

The body of Michael McKnight, 12, was held firmly in a seat next to Kevin. On the other side Guy, 9, another brother, was unconscious with jaw and skull fractures.

The searchers were directed to the scene by a spotting airplane. It took nearly two hours to move Kevin and Guy and the dead to a hospital in Salida 14 miles away.

Almost intact, the plane's cabin roof sheltered Kevin from the rainy, cold night.

"He was hungry," Sheriff Thonoff said. "He asked for pork and beans with lots of black pepper."

Auto Workers Vote On New Contract

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Quick votes to strike in support of new contract demands will be asked of more than half a million United Auto Workers at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler plants across the country.

Current three-year contracts between the UAW and the Big Three auto makers have only 17 more days to run.

The UAW's International Executive Board authorized the taking of strike votes among Big Three workers, at a special strategy meeting Sunday.

But at the same time the board turned down a request for a similar vote among members employed by American Motors Corp., the only auto maker thus far to offer a new wage package. AM surprisingly offered a profit-sharing plan, which the UAW demanded in bargaining but didn't get three years ago.

Some unionists expressed the hope that balloting could be completed this week or within 10 days at most. Executive board members expressed confidence that overwhelming strike approval would be forthcoming.

Contracts at GM, Ford and Chrysler all expire Aug. 31. The union's executive board said it would meet again Aug. 29 to fix a strike target if progress is not made meanwhile on new pacts.

Known to Berliners as "Ku-damm," it is the location of most international hotels, leading shops, restaurants and entertainment spots. Foreign Aid Debates Set For Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — With clear sailing apparently assured in the Senate, the administration's foreign aid program heads into stormy weather in the House today.

On both sides of Capitol Hill, debate was scheduled on measures authorizing a five-year $8.8-billion development loan program financed by Treasury borrowing, plus the regular cash outlays for overseas assistance in the current fiscal year.

The Senate has before it an amendment by Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., and others under which either house could veto any development loan over $10 million.

After two days of talk, the House expects to start voting on amendments Wednesday, with leaders predicting passage of its version of the program Thursday or Friday. The administration faces a stiff fight against efforts there to limit the loan program to two years and to cut the amount of funds available.

Program Schedule Complete For County Fair Aug. 22-26

The program schedule for the annual Columbiana County Fair Aug. 22-26 has been completed, according to Clarence Crosser, secretary of the Columbiana County Agriculture Society.

Junior Fair Day will be observed on the opening day. The highlights will include a livestock and machinery parade at 7 p.m., including the 4-H King and Queen and their courts, along with 4-H floats, followed by the 4-H Review in front of the grandstand at 8. Also scheduled are weighing of 4-H and F.F.A. steers, judging of junior fair dairy cattle and poultry judging, along with the junior fair program beginning at 1:30 p.m. at which time the King and Queen will be crowned.

Wednesday's program will include light draft horse pulling contest at 9:30 a.m., followed by junior fair dairy showmanship contest at 10:30. There will be judging of 4-H and F.F.A. steers at 1 p.m., horse racing at 1:30 and judging of junior fair beef breeding classes and beef showmanship contest, also in the afternoon. A horse show is scheduled at 7 p.m. and the junior fair steer sale will be held at 8.

Activities Thursday will include a heavy draft horse pulling contest, horse racing, livestock and machinery parade and a variety show in front of grandstand.

A tractor pulling contest and pony judging will be held Friday morning and afternoon, followed by the livestock and machinery parade at 7 p.m. and King Brothers Rodeo at 8.

The fair will close Saturday night following horse racing and a pony pulling contest in the morning and afternoon, followed by livestock and machinery parade at 7 p.m. and last showing of the King Rodeo at 8.

Fair Board officers are William Maple of Kensington, President; Ben Weingart, Leetonia R.D., vice president; V. B. Lemley of Lisbon, treasurer, and P. R. Corey of Columbiana, concession secretary.

What's New on the Market?

What's new on the market? The product—a power block plane. It weighs only 4½ pounds and can be held in one hand. The manufacturer's claim—that it is a new concept in planing because it is not only faster than its non-powered predecessors, but does a wider variety of operations, including edge planing, beveling, rabbeting and surface planing.

The product—an all-purpose masonry kit. It includes all the materials and tools needed for a cement job and is packaged in its own plastic mortarbox.

The manufacturer's claim—that its key ingredient is a unique pre-blended masonry product requiring no additive but water and that it will bond to cement, stone, brick, flagstone and steel.

The product—a spray designed to prevent mildew.

The manufacturer's claim—that it kills spores instantly, stops mildew before it starts, ends odor and will prevent mildew formation for an entire season.

The product—a full-sized, in-the-ground swimming pool especially designed to be installed by the do-it-yourselfer.

The manufacturer's claim—that a special vinyl liner in this pool eliminates the necessity of painting and scraping each year and that this liner is guaranteed in writing for ten years.

The product—a new line of face brick available in eight colors: white, salmon, pink, red, tan, yellow and green.

The manufacturer's claim—that this silica brick cuts cleanly, is easier to handle and, because it is precision molded under 65 tons of pressure, has mechanical properties superior to those of common clay brick.

The product—a butyl rubber roof coating.

The manufacturer's claim—that this coating creates a bond between the roofing and the coating itself similar to vulcanizing, that it reduces interior temperatures by 15 degrees and that it extends the life of a roof by as much as 15 years.

SPLIT PERSONALITY: This home, which offers 1,008 square feet of living space, has a split personality: it's a rancher, yet has a split-level feature in the two risers leading to the bedroom area. The three-bedroom house has a split bath for dual use and features a family room, dining room and kitchen in combination. The architect is Herman H. York, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 32, New York, and the plan HA204Y.

Buy Good Screw Drivers; Take Care of Them Properly

The man who owns just one screw driver is ill-equipped. There's no such thing as an all-purpose screw driver. You have to match the tool with the job and this means at least three sizes, possibly more.

The nearest thing to an all-purpose screw driver is the combination screw driver—a single handle with a variety of detachable blades. Some even have chisel blades and wrench heads included. Like any other combination tool this represents a compromise, fine for light duty, occasional work.

Troubles
A screw driver blade that is too narrow will turn in the slot of the screw. This chews up the top of the screw, often slips and damages the surrounding surface. Thick blades won't fit. Blades that are too narrow or too wide may slip.

Screw driver sizes are generally measured by the length of the blade. But judge your needs according to widths. Blade widths of 3/16, 1/4 and 5/16-inch will take care of most screws up to and including number 12 screws.

To make your work faster you can buy screw driver bits to use in place of a drill bit in a ratchet brace. There are also ratchet screw drivers that contain a ratchet mechanism. The simplest is the type in which the handle turns only one way. The spiral ratchet turns the blade when you press down on the handle—is much faster—ideal for production work.

Either type of ratchet can be adjusted to turn in either direction.

Phillips Screw Driver
Aside from the standard screw driver you'll want some with blades for Phillips screws. The Phillips screw has two slots crossing the head. The Phillips screw driver is designed to fit these screws which are found on furniture and some appliances.

For extremely close work in hard-to-reach spots you will need an offset screw driver. This is a handle with a blade at each end at right angles to each other.

There are others that you might want for specialized jobs—stubby screw driver, length a little over three inches, to use where there's little space above the screw; screw-holding screw driver, spring jaws on the end for holding a screw, or a split blade that spreads to wedge itself in the screw head slot, ideal for working in hard-to-reach spots.

Take Care

Buy good screw drivers and take care of them. Keep the blade tip filed so that it is smooth and square. Blade ends should not be sharp. If you use an emery wheel for dressing the blade don't let the metal get overheated or it will lose its temper.

Never use a screw driver for a crowbar, a punch, or a chisel. Never pound on a screw driver. Use screw drivers with insulated handles for electrical work.

Many Fallacies Exist In Painting, Finishing Category

Fallacies are a dime a dozen in the do-it-yourself area. They're especially numerous in the painting and finishing category.

For instance, it is NOT true—That all paint products should be shaken vigorously and then stirred before applying. Latex paints should not be shaken, but should be stirred carefully. Shaking will cause the latex to foam.

Varnish should neither be shaken nor stirred, especially right before using, since excessive movement of the varnish will create bubbles that will spoil the finish.

—That all paint products should be brushed out. Enamels and varnishes should be flowed on with a full brush, with stroking kept to a minimum for best results.

—That exterior house paint can be used on outdoor furniture. Modern house paints are formulated to be self-cleaning by wearing away slowly by a process known as chalking. If such paint is used on furniture, the chalk will come off on clothing.

—That varnish is varnish and can be used wherever a varnish finish is specified. There are many different kinds of varnish, each designed for a particular purpose. Regular interior varnish will not stand up outdoors. Spar varnish is fine outdoors, but is not good for floors. Furniture varnish is also unacceptable for floors. Before buying varnish, tell your dealer what its use will be and ask him for the proper type.

—That a primer is unnecessary and is merely a product sold to add to your painting bill. A primer is a special paint which seals porous surfaces so that the decorative topcoat will be absorbed properly. When the paint manufacturer (or the maker of the product being painted) specifies the use of a primer, follow his advice. You'll get a more pleasing result and one that will be more durable.

—That radiators are best painted with silver or gold-colored paints. Research has shown that metallic paints reduce the heat emission considerably. Painting radiators with flat wall paint, generally the same color as the walls, will permit them to give out more heat as well as make them less noticeable.

Here's The Answer

QUESTION: We're moving into a new house shortly. None of the pipes is insulated? Should they be and what is the purpose?

ANSWER: Cold-water pipes should be insulated when it is necessary to prevent them from dripping, due to condensation. The condensation is caused when warm, humid air comes in contact with the cold pipes. There are several ways of insulating such pipes. In one method, a tube-type covering is placed around the pipes. In another, a wrap-around insulation is used. In still another, a heavy, molasses-like product is flowed on the pipes with a paint brush. Hot-water pipes and steam pipes are insulated to prevent loss of heat. There are also several ways of doing this, the most common being the use of the tube-type covering mentioned above.

QUESTION: A basement room in our house has old fiberboard walls, which now are in poor condition. I would like to put up gypsum board walls. Can I install them right over the fiberboard?

ANSWER: Yes, you can put up the gypsum board directly over the fiberboard. But be sure to nail the new walls into the wood framing and not to the fiberboard. The fiberboard will give you excellent added insulation.

leads 32 Chinese "slaves" to new life

Li Sing-sui led 32 Chinese laborers from Red China's torturous slave farms to Hong Kong. Though they knew they would be joining hundreds of thousands of jobless, destitute refugees, they risked their lives for freedom. Fortunately, they were discovered by the Chuk Yuen Refugee Rehabilitation Program. And they are now self-supporting and building their own terror-free futures.

The Chuk Yuen Center for refugees is a direct result of Americans supporting the Overseas Aid Program of their faith. While this endeavor is Protestant, all three great faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—maintain far-reaching aid and relief programs.

This work goes on, day in and day out . . . and it must continue. These religion-sponsored programs often are the only hope of survival to countless millions of all ages, colors and creeds. Next time you're asked to support your faith's Overseas Aid Program, remember the needs of others like Li Sing-sui and his friends, who have no other place to turn for help.

Any Old Stick to Beat a Dog

It is gratifying that Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., has taken himself off the spot as a possible exploiter of Sen. J. William Fulbright's recent blast against militarists who dream of growing right and left wings.

The issue is whether high military officials ever should take it on themselves to indoctrinate military personnel under their command. Sen. Fulbright, an Arkansas Democrat, sent the Pentagon a memorandum saying indoctrination shouldn't be allowed. Immediately, the issue was joined. Sen. McNamara tended to agree.

Sen. Fulbright then was accused of being soft on Communism because the military officials had been using anti-Communist indoctrination. His accusers knew better, and Sen. Goldwater has had enough courage to separate himself from any movement to make political capital of this in Arkansas, where the senator will be running for re-election next year.

It would be an excellent idea for everybody else to separate himself from the movement, too. It's double-edged. According to the rule of picking up any old stick to beat a dog, Republicans have picked up this particular stick in the hope of inflicting damage on a political competitor.

But there is a precedent tied to the stick, and they had better look at the precedent. If it's wrong for high military officials to indoctrinate soldiers one way, it's wrong for them to indoctrinate soldiers another way. This is something that goes far back into United States history.

This country cherishes the idea of a citizen army under civilian control because it is afraid of a professional army under military control. And its fears have been borne out dozens of times by armies indoctrinated to suit the predilections of commanders who made bids for political control.

If nothing but anti-Communism were involved in the indoctrination, that would be simple. Everybody's against Communism. But anti-Communism easily becomes a movement in this country against everything hateful, which is the danger Sen. Fulbright is thinking about. It's also the danger Robert S. McNamara, the current civilian secretary of defense, seems to be thinking about when he says foreign policy statements should be made by the Department of State. He, too, is aware of the ever-present danger that militarists might decide to run the government to suit themselves, instead of continuing to think of themselves as employees of a civilian government who give advice when asked for it and give it then only in the field of their military competence.

France is in a dilemma because some of its militarists have been unwilling to button up their mouths. Within recent weeks, militarists moved in and took over the government of South Korea. Lieut. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, said a few days ago he had no confidence in professional armies; that he preferred civilian armies.

Sen. Fulbright should be praised, not censured, for pointing out the danger of military indoctrination. Once the precedent had been established that military personnel should learn at their generals' knees, who is going to decide what they learn there?

The Manager

Long before his death and long before the decline in health that preceded his death, Walter Bedell Smith had been the beneficiary of all the golden adjectives. The adjectives and the numerous medals that had been bestowed on him were tokens of esteem from those who knew most about his incredible capabilities as a manager.

During World War II, they called him "general manager of the War in the West." That was when he was Dwight D. Eisenhower's chief of staff. At other times he was general manager of United States relations with the Kremlin; he was ambassador to the Soviet Union. He was manager of the State Department, as its undersecretary. He ran the Central Intelligence Agency. When he finally left government service he became a vice president for one of the country's large industries.

We like a story told about him when he was asked what he preferred to be called—general, ambassador, secretary, or what? He said, "I sign my name 'W. B. Smith.' Call me 'Smith.'"

In our time there has been no public servant more skilled than W. B. Smith. As often as not the deeds other men took bows for were made possible by his managerial skill, which he lent freely to his government under a creed that his best talents were none to good for the service of his fellow Americans.

The world lies before the man who doesn't himself.

Once Over

There must be two kinds of Americans, plain people and pro wrestlers.

Tony Rocca, famed "rassler," licked our speed laws, safety campaigns, police departments and courts in three straight falls the other day. He didn't have to use any special "holds" or "torture grips" to score an easier victory than he ever won on a wrestling show.

All he had to do was pay plane and train fare to answer a New York speeding summons to win not only immediate freedom but a bouquet from judge as a noble citizen for showing up. "I think it commendable," said hizzoner, "that a person as busy and important as you should go out of your way like this to answer a summons. I wish more people, born in this country, would give as much attention as you have to this."

This is "rassling" decision of year and great victory for grippers and groaners. It puts the 56-inch chest measurement and Half-Nelson far above the duty of all persons, (with or without hair on their chest) to answer summons for imperiling human lives on a busy highway.

Court implies that if it costs a lawbreaker more than a few dollars to show up in court, he is setting noble example in top-grade citizenship.

Rocca had been away off on a big money wrestling engagements, as far south as Florida and, of course, to keep an engagement with a court he had to pay considerable car and plane fare, being a wrestler, not a bunion derby contestant.

So whereby was the sacrifice, the high spirit of respect for law and the illustrious behavior which entitled him to a special rating from hizzoner?

Rocca emphasized the expense of travel and said, "I would rather wrestle 10 men than go before a court."

Nonsense. Tony! The magistrate was pinned on his back without the slightest physical exertion, or even a grunt.

If you had a 58 instead of a 56 chest measurement you might have had your money refunded.

WONDER IF COSMONAUT Titov's wife's

Hopeful For the Best

The good citizens of East Palestine must have mixed emotions over the success of the Royal China Company's operation of the former W. S. George pottery and the recent announcement that the city's furniture plant, the Kenmar Mfg. Co., may be forced to suspend operations because of the production-wage cost squeeze.

Kenmar, which Company President Robert Maurer says lost $250,000 last year due mainly to competition from southern factories, is currently negotiating with its union on a new contract. The northern Columbiana County district shares East Palestine's hopes for a workable pact that can keep Kenmar intact. A threatened factory closing would be a blow, especially at a time when the Royal China Company's dinner ware production at East Palestine has 270 former idle potters back at work.

7 For School Board

Earlier fears that too few candidates would seek election to the two expiring terms on the Salem Board of Education proved groundless. Seven candidates have filed for the nonpartisan balloting next Nov. 7.

This assures a lively contest and focuses closer attention on local school matters. Too often competent candidates can't be coaxed into the public spotlight although the type of job for which they volunteer is highly commendable.

By H. I. Phillips

first words when he got back were: "I wish you were half as handy, happy and competent around the house, when I ask you to fix a doorknob or repair a screen, as you are up there doing wonders in a spaceship."

"Operation Terror" is to star an actor who has searched all his life for a big role and now must play leading character masked and unknown until final episode. This combines the "whodunit" with the "whotizzit."

Russia must have a skilled casting director in those spaceship flights. Both Gagarin and Titov are fine lookers with warm personalities, upsetting belief that Russians are cold, deadpan types. Both would be Hollywood naturals.

All over U.S., especially in New York, violent resistance by lawbreakers and spectators to police doing their sworn duty, is bringing demand for less restrictions on cops.

It's commonplace for policemen to face something like wartime combat duty from hoods and sympathetic neighborhood groups. Yet police department rules in Gotham and many other places ban even old-fashioned nightstick, more or less.

"Hoodlums know that if the policemen retaliated there would be a hue and cry from starry-eyed do-gooders, crackpots and groups that always yell 'Cossacks' at cops," says on jurist, calling for an all-out movement to end situation which puts hundreds of policemen in hospitals.

"Something's got to give" if U.S. is to remain a land of law and order and we hope it won't be the long-suffering policeman.

The nightstick was for generations a great "persuader," and there was no hue and cry if a cop, attacked by cop killers, bashed heads with speed and accuracy.

Cubans are having a food shortage. Castro seems to be saying "Let them eat four-hour radio scripts."

Center of U.S. population is in Shattug, a small Illinois town, government reports. Nonsense. It's at Lexington Ave. and 42nd St. and the Commodore bar in rush hour.

These are times when it can seem a good idea to remain in army or navy and make a career of it to avoid brief recesses.

"Berlin Is a Rotten Tooth"

Let's Take The Offensive

By VICTOR RIESEL

BERLIN It was high noon and the grim, green-uniformed, black-booted "vo-po" (Volkspolizei) and I faced each other. The Communist cop at the Soviet sector line reached for my passport grunted and waved me on into East Berlin. This was the enemy in flesh and blood, not just a headline. Soon I passed hundreds like him on my way to the Potsdamer Platz and then on to the old City Hall in the Western Sector, where governing Mayor Willy Brandt told me in practical terms what it means to prepare to hold the free city under a possible siege.

The 47-year-old embattled mayor was tense in the troubled air but not nervous, not frightened. He, like his colleague, the "operations" mayor, (the city has two chief executives) Franz Arndt, does not believe Nikita Khrushchev will provoke us into a shooting war.

WHY ALL THIS crisis talk?

The Soviets could try to take the city without even a burst of conventional shooting by the "vo-po" or the 110,000 strong East German Communist Volksarmee.

Some morning, for example, there could suddenly appear in West Berlin, some 50,000 members of the Russian sector "Kampf Gruppen"—the para-military civilian Communist groups.

They could attempt in the name of the people of Berlin, to seize the power houses, the radio, the rail station the S-Bahns, the U-Bahns, the City Hall itself, and set up a West Berlin government of their own.

That would do it. Not a military rifle need pop off. But West Berlin is prepared for these Communist cadres. For about a year now, young West Berliners have been going to their police stations.

There, they have been training to take over the gendarmeries' duties. They are all organized now and listed for special alerts.

Should there be any invasion, by the Communist Kampf Gruppen or by the East sector's "vo-po" or Volksarmee or by the Soviet army itself, the young Berliners would mobilize at their various police headquarters throughout the free city.

THEY WOULD NOT do the counter fighting. They would put on arm bands and become the city's police force—and the regular police, well armed, would instantaneously revamp itself into a fine little army. If they had to tackle the Kampf Gruppen, they would fight it out alone—and win.

If the regular Communist East German troops showed up—which is doubtful because the Russians fear they would defect with their arms in huge numbers—but if they did, the Western sector police would battle them with logistic aid from our own forces.

No one really believes the Red Army would ever move in. But if it did, the police would link up with Allied forces while Willy Brandt would hit the radio and call the police into the streets to the barricades.

They would hold the streets as long as possible—perhaps even long enough for Allied reinforcements to crash through. But, such a Communist attack is not likely to develop.

But what if the Soviets try to blockade the city once again? Willy Brandt and his aide swiftly spelled out the anti-siege strategy.

"It would not be pleasant," Brandt said. "But we could live almost normally for eight months without a planload of assistance from the outside. And if we ration what we have stockpiled, we can go 14 months."

BRANDT REVEALED West Berlin has printed millions of ration cards—enough for one million families.

This would be for food and gasoline. The latter would be in the scarcest supply. But there is enough coal on hand in open fields to last a year. During the '48 airlift, there was no coal. It had to be flown in. Now there is enough for a year's worth of fuel for electric power plants, gas production, heating and even cooking. There is cooking coal too, for the big mills.

There are industrial stockpiles—steel, equipment and spare parts for the huge Siemens plants, which produce radios, television sets, telephone equipment and electrical machinery. Manufacturers won't, of course, produce big Diesel engines for the Hamburg shipyards because they won't be able to fly them out.

There is enough industrial equipment stockpiled for about a year's production.

Why? Why not use the storage space for food and fuel? Because there must be normal employment and normal pursuits even under siege—with or without a single planload of help.

ALL THIS is not yet enough. Since the Khrushchev ultimatum, the city has sped its storage construction program. A new central food "market" has been created. Warehouses are being built.

All this is not the answer. Willy Brandt says it simply shows that we are on the defense.

"Let's take the offensive to him," says Brandt, meaning Russia. "Let's make him answer for all the failures inside East Germany and the Soviet bloc."

Let's ask him why he has failed to free his own people. Let's keep him off balance instead of letting him push us around."

Let's.

El Paso, Tex.: Only a woman who has given up her baby can know the agony and the pain of separation. I felt in my heart I was doing what was best for my child but all these years I've been haunted by the fear that my child would always hate me. Bless you, Ann, for the peace of mind you have brought me.

Lawrence, Kan.: I was a foolish girl who refused to give up her out-of-wedlock baby. I told myself I could stand against the world and its conventions, and that nothing mattered except keeping my baby. I also told myself that my child would thank me for the "sacrifices" and love me all the more for my courage.

I was wrong. When she ran away from home at the age of 15 she left a note saying, "I hate you, Mother. You never gave me a break."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mount Vernon, N. Y.: Last night I got my first good night's sleep in years. When I read the letter from "The Child You Gave Up" it was as if someone had lifted a 10-ton weight off my heart. Many years ago I gave up my child for adoption. Since that day I have been tortured by the question, "Can a child ever understand and forgive a mother for doing this?" Now I know the answer.

Stuebenville, Ohio: I'm so grateful that you didn't print the name of the city along with the letter signed "The Child You Gave Up." I want more than anything to believe that the letter was written by the child I gave up many years ago.

Nikita Overplays Hand

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Speeches Extolling Orbital Flights Resented

IN EUROPE Unquestionably Nikita Khrushchev has overplayed his hand in the propaganda speeches he has delivered extolling the Soviet orbital flights as the product of the Communist system. This is resented throughout Europe.

Many a newspaper in countries like Sweden, Norway and Denmark has just expressed the criticism that celebration of a scientific experiment should not be cloaked in the language of international politics or polemics.

In addition, there is some skepticism developing about Major Titov's feat itself. While this is not as outspoken as the doubts that were expressed about Major Gagarin's story of his flight into space, some significant questions are nevertheless being raised.

Thus, Major Titov told newsmen in Moscow that he controlled the ship himself. When asked how he did this, he replied: "I began manual guidance of the cosmic ship according to program at 10 o'clock (on Sunday). My ship is a very cleverly constructed machine, and easy to steer. It was possible to orientate it in any direction, to direct it where you needed, and where you wanted it to land. When I had the steering of the ship in my hands, I felt just like a real pilot. My first impression from manual operation is very good."

HERE IS WHAT the Reuters news service reported to the European press in a dispatch from Stanford, Calif.: "C. Stark Draper, head of aeronautical engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, described as 'malarkey' press reports that cosmonaut Gherman Titov controlled the course of his Vostok II during his orbiting of the earth. Mr. Draper says: "That boy didn't do anything more than Shepard did on his ride. He didn't have the thrust aboard to go out of his orbital path."

On this same point comes an article in the London Daily Telegraph by its science correspondent, Anthony Smith, who writes: "Major Titov's remarks about his ability to maneuver his craft in space are frustratingly obscure. It would be interesting to know more about those automatic manual controls which work so easily. . . .

"Until fresh evidence is available, it must be assumed that he carried no large power unit on board with which to change his orbit. Until such a power unit is filed by the Russians with the Federation Aeronautique Internationale in Paris, the international agency which certifies flying records, American officials are said to have expressed a hope the Russians would be more informative about Major Titov's journey than they have been about Major Gagarin's.

By contrast, the United States government has made a disclosure of the details of the flights of Cdr. Shepard and Capt. Grisson and intends to follow the same policy in the future for its space flights.

So far as scientific proof available to other countries is concerned, everything that was transmitted by radio from the Titov craft could have been recorded on tape ahead of time and played back on schedule from an orbiting satellite, and all the speeches could have been rehearsed in advance.

Football returned to the gawk-box with a thud and once more I sat spellbound. It wasn't a good contest—the College All-Stars were no match for the Philadelphia Eagles—but football is far and away the best sports entertainment on the gawk-box.

This is because most of the 22 players are together most of the time. There is something to see. Baseball telecasts, no matter how skillful, cannot give you a whole picture. Basketball is better, but in the race-horse game they play now you've seen 'em all when you've seen one basket. There's a sameness about every scoring play and in many games the contest is decided in the last few seconds.

Hockey is nothing, because the puck is invisible. Golf and bowling are good only for people who are wrapped up in them, but otherwise dull. No doubt about it, football is best for watching.

But I never quit wondering about this fantastic game in which mastodons crunch and pulverize one another in hope of gain, and I am including college football in that statement. There would be no big-time college football unless most players were hoping to get tapped for careers as professionals.

Strictly amateur football is played only in athletically obscure schools that let students play football for fun. Elsewhere, the nature of the game is established by the performance of players hoping to attract favorable attention of someone in a position to gratify the players' hope of gain.

It isn't exactly like being a gladiator in Rome, but the resemblance is close. In Rome, a gladiator hoped for his life, and in the United States a football player hopes for a living. Life was cheap in Rome before and after the beginning of the Christian era. It's more expensive here; that's the difference.

Professional football players ask for and receive money for willingness to withstand and administer punishment calculated to make the short hair stand up on carried in a Russian rocket, the space man will be able only to rotate his craft within its orbit or to fire the retro-rockets and leave it altogether."

Another part of Major Titov's speech delivered in the presence of Soviet Premier Khrushchev in Moscow is coming in for considerable discussion.

THE ASTRONAUT said that, while in space, he had seen the lights of big cities by night and continents and oceans by day.

While it takes enormous-sized telescopes to see at great distances, it would seem that by some magic of Khrushchev's communism the astronaut carried in his small space ship a telescope capable of distinguishing from nearly 160 miles above the earth the lights of cities at night. This has aroused widespread comment and expressions of doubt in Europe.

Because the Russians have never given the world the essential facts about how Major Gagarin conducted his flight, some scientists who developed a skepticism because of contradictory statements made by Major Gagarin after his flight are equally doubtfully now about the Titov story of what he did aboard a small satellite.

European newspapers, for instance, are carrying dispatches from Washington written by their own correspondents, pointing out that the Russians have never told the whole story of the Gagarin flight.

The London Daily Telegraph correspondent attributes to officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington the statement that the Russians have given only three salient facts about Major Gagarin's flight: the launching site, the landing point, and the flight time.

THESE BARE FACTS were filed by the Russians with the Federation Aeronautique Internationale in Paris, the international agency which certifies flying records. American officials are said to have expressed a hope the Russians would be more informative about Major Titov's journey than they have been about Major Gagarin's.

By contrast, the United States government has made a disclosure of the details of the flights of Cdr. Shepard and Capt. Grisson and intends to follow the same policy in the future for its space flights.

So far as scientific proof available to other countries is concerned, everything that was transmitted by radio from the Titov craft could have been recorded on tape ahead of time and played back on schedule from an orbiting satellite, and all the speeches could have been rehearsed in advance.

the back of a spectator's neck. The contestants with the greatest skill and hardihood come back time after time.

Great arenas stage the spectacles. Some spectators are fascinated; they never miss a contest. Not only do they want to see the contestants afterwards. They are like the aficionado who cannot resist bull-fighting. They are like the people who never miss the Memorial Day race at Indianapolis and the spectators of road-racing in Europe. They love violence.

It is as if time had run backward to these great arenas filled to overflowing with crowds fascinated by human beings pitting their lives against each other. This is the attraction in prize-fighting and wrestling, when spectators take them seriously. And the thing about professional football is that spectators do take it seriously—as seriously as they took the game when collegians "died for dear old Siwash."

The hope of life has been supplanted by the hope of living, as a concession to a couple thousand years of civilization since the Caesars whiled away pleasant hours watching men in mortal combat.

And there it is—the gladiator with his helmet, his suit of armor, his scow, his do-or-die determination and the bodies being carried off. The more things change, the more they are the same. Or perhaps it should be: Nothing ever changes except the price.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Our Tolerance Of Sunlight Varies

Since the beginning of time, there has been a belief in the healing powers of sunlight (heliotherapy). But only recently has attention been drawn to the ill effects that may follow excessive exposure to sunlight (phototoxicity), and to the unusual reactions occasionally experienced by certain individuals, especially children, when exposed briefly to the rays of the sun (photosensitivity).

Here's an example of photosensitivity, as observed by a mother of 3-year-old twins:

"All winter, my children are just wonderful. But during the summers, when I put them outside to play in the sun, their temperatures rise, sometimes as high as 102 degrees F. "Some times when their temperatures are up, they have convulsions."

"Once, when they were seen by a doctor, he said they had a virus and he gave them shots of penicillin. But the next time, when they got better just as fast after I took them indoors without getting penicillin shots, I thought that maybe the fever was on account of the heat or the sun. Is this possible? Can anything be done about it?"

Indeed it is not only possible. It is quite likely a brilliant example of the helpful assistance that can be given the physician by an observant mother, using the Sherlock Holmes method of investigation I've written about often. Because so many judge both health and beauty by the intensity of a sun tan, it may be worthwhile to devote the remainder of this column and the whole of the next to those problems that arise out of normal and excessive exposure to sunlight.

These are the known facts with regard to the effects of sunlight on the human body:

Sunburn reactions occur within narrow limits in the wave lengths of sunlight (2900 to 3200 Angstrom units). In the northern part of America, these wave lengths reach the earth only in late spring and throughout the summer. In the south, they are present almost year-round.

While these rays are helpful in the control of certain skin conditions, especially acne and psoriasis, they do great harm in others, particularly in what's called the "butterfly disease" (lupus erythematosus).

Certain persons are particularly sensitive to exposure to these rays (photoallergy). Photoallergic reactions may occur on brief exposure to sunlight. These reactions include attacks of hives (solar urticaria) or of reddish pimples (solar eczema).

In addition to photoallergies that develop in those who are sensitive, similar eruptions and reactions may occur in the non-sensitive while they are using certain drugs (antibiotics; tranquilizers). Or while they are using certain dyes, perfumes and ointments or lotions containing coal tars (phototoxicity).

3 Salem Persons Injured In Crash

Five persons, including three Salem people, were injured in a two-car crash Friday night in alternate Route 14, about a mile southeast of Route 224.

Treated at Ravenna Robinson Memorial Hospital were Gordon DeGross, 45, RD4, Alliance; James Snyder, 27, of Alliance Alma Wolford, 19, of RD 4, Salem and her parents, Ralph Wolford, 63, and Laura Wolford, 56.

Snyder, a passenger in DeGross's car, received a severe laceration of the scalp, and Ralph Wolford a laceration of his right eyebrow, a possible fractured pelvis and had several teeth knocked out. The others were treated for facial cuts.

The State Highway Patrol at Ravenna said DeGross was traveling northwest, and Miss Wolford, driving the other car, southeast when the girl lost control of her car and crossed into DeGross's lane. Miss Wolford was cited for speeding.

Neville-Harrold Nuptials Held In Leetonia Church

Miss Evalyn Louise Neville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Neville of Lisbon RD 5, and James Harrold of Canfield exchanged wedding vows Saturday afternoon at 3:30 in St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Leetonia.

Before an altar banked with palms and ferns, baskets of white gladioli and with seven-branch candelabra at either side, Rev. T. P. Laughner officiated for the single ring ceremony. White satin bows marked the family pews.

A half hour of nuptial music by the church organist preceded the service.

Given in marriage by her father the bride appeared in a ballerina-length gown of embroidered tulle over taffeta, styled with fitted bodice, scalloped sabrian neckline, short sleeves and a bouffant skirt. Her veil of silk illusion was held in place by a Dior bow of taffeta. Mitts completed her attire, and she carried a white Bible overlaid with an orchid with cascading satin streamers tied in lovers knots holding stephanotis.

Mrs. Paul Neville of Lisbon, the bride's sister-in-law, was the matron of honor and her only attendant. She wore a street-length dress of pastel green chiffon with a low scoop neckline, short sleeves and a full skirt. Her head bandeau matched the dress, and she carried a basket of summer flowers. Jack Month of Canfield served as best man, and ushers were

The couple will reside in an apartment in Boardman upon their return from a honeymoon trip through Canada. For going away, Mrs. Harrold wore a brown and white checked bolera dress with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

A rehearsal party was given at the Monah home in Canfield Friday evening following the rehearsal at the church. Lunch was served by the hosts, and attendants were remembered with gifts. The matron of honor received a pearl necklace and the best man and ushers, pearl stick-pins.

Mrs. Lottie Cool, grandmother of the bridegroom, with whom he made his home, wore a light blue print dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception for 150 followed in the church dining room where the bride's table was laid in white linen and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a traditional miniature bride and groom and decorated in pink and white. Pink tapers burned in crystal holders.

Serving at the reception were Mrs. Donald Whitacre, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Pat Mango, cousin of the bride, both of Leetonia, and Mrs. Robert Ewing of Columbiana, an aunt of the bride. Mrs. Hazel Dieber of New Middletown registered the guests.

The bride, a 1957 graduate of Lisbon High School, is employed by the Youngstown Welding and Engineering Co.

The bride groom, also a high school graduate, served in the

160 Freedom Riders Face Appeal Trials

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—More than 160 convicted "Freedom Riders," rallied by hymn-singing sympathizers, appear in Hinds County Court today for appeal trials.

County Judge Russell Moore convenes court at 3 p.m. EST, and under a year-old rule all 192 riders who posted appeal bonds after their breach of peace convictions were required to appear or forfeit their $500 bonds.

But at least five of the segregation-defying riders earlier had announced their attention of not appearing. Their attorney petitioned a federal court to receive the five cases, and they were automatically transferred to U.S. Dist. court.

Officials of the ride-sponsoring Congress on Racial Equality (CORE) said at least 180 of the riders were in Jackson Sunday night.

The convicted riders returned to this Mississippi capital city of 70,000 in the same methods they had used to travel here earlier. But this time they refused to enter any segregated facilities.

The total number of arrested riders swelled to 307 Sunday, however, as two more persons tested segregation barriers in a bus terminal here. They were arrested by Jackson police as quickly as the earlier riders.

Old Dutch, Stepanic's Meet Tonight In District Tourney

Winner to Take On Undefeated Smithfield A. C. In Title Game

Shaffer Ford Eliminated 3-1; Championship Battle Tuesday

The double elimination District Softball Tournament has been shaved down to three teams out of the original field of eight but the top battle of the tourney so far, will take place tonight when arch rivals Old Dutch and Stepanic's Tavern lock horns with the winner moving into the championship game against undefeated Smithfield Falcon A. C. on Tuesday at Kelley Park.

Old Dutch earned its way into the finals of the losers bracket on Jack Roesti's single in the last of the seventh inning driving in Jerry J. Mount to break a 5-5 tie and give the county champs a 6-5 win over Minerva Gotschall-Hutchinson on Sunday.

STEPANIC'S Tavern fell into the losers bracket and got another chance to meet Old Dutch when Smithfield tripped the Tavern 4-2 on Sunday.

In other games played Sunday Stepanic's downed Shaffer Ford, last year's champion, 3-1; Magnolia Naco knocked Bloomingdale out of the tourney, 6-3; Old Dutch eliminated Magnolia, 9-3 and Minerva pushed Shaffer Ford from action, 2-0.

Saturday games saw Minerva blank Unionport, last year's runner-up, 16-0; Shaffer Ford top Magnolia, 8-1; Stepanic's rout Bloomingdale, 15-0, and Smithfield upend Old Dutch, 8-2.

Tonight's Old Dutch-Stepanic's battle looms as a grudge match between the two teams. In the championship game of the Columbiana County Tournament Old Dutch pounded the Tavern aggregation 19-5 on 21 hits.

Old Dutch came from behind in its narrow victory over Minerva. The losers tallied four runs in the first inning on Dick Youngpeter's grand slam homer and one in the second to roll to a 5-1 lead after two frames.

The winners racked up their 1st run in the first inning on singles by Whitey Moore and Jim Weizeneker. Another tally in the fourth frame closed the gap for Old Dutch to 5-2.

IN THE 5TH frame Old Dutch tied the game on singles by Lefty Miller, Moore, Weizeneker and Paul Herman to set the stage for Reosti's game winning single in the seventh inning.

Moore paced the lo-hat attack of Old Dutch with three hits in four trips to the plate.

Youngpeter led the way for Minerva with a perfect three-for-three at the plate.

Smithfield's Fred McGee was too much for Stepanic's as the winners' shortstop hammered three of the four runs tallied by Smithfield.

The game opened with both team's scoring in the first inning. Stepanic's tallied on a walk to Ben Roelen, a sacrifice and a single by Dave Drakulich.

Stepanic's took a short-lived, 2-1 margin in the second inning on two errors and a hit batter. Smithfield tied the tilt in the third on McGee's first homer. After racking up another tally in the sixth inning McGee rapped his second homer in the seventh to ice the contest for the winners. Smithfield chalked up its third straight tourney win by downing Stepanic's.

McGee collected three hits in four trips to the plate for Smithfield.

Minerva blanked Shaffer Ford behind Leon Hostetter's three-hitter to oust the defending champs.

AFTER A scoreless three innings Minerva tallied its first run and then coasted to its victory.

Bob Barber led the way for Minerva with two doubles and a single in three trips to the plate.

Jack Brudery, Jerry Hendrick's and Wayne Hahn collected the three Shaffer Ford hits.

Old Dutch eliminated Magnolia behind the three-hit hurling of Bill Herman while the winners socked seven safeties and built up a 6-1 lead after three innings.

Jim Weizeneker clouted two homers, one a two-run blast in the sixth inning, to feature along with Herman in the Old Dutch victory.

Old Dutch racked up three runs in the first inning on a double by John Baker and a single by Whitey Moore, an error and two walks.

Another 3-run spurt in the third frame was paced by Weizeneker's first homer as he led the inning off.

Mike Longo rapped a homer in the first inning to give Stepanic's a slim 1-0 lead over Shaffer Ford. Shaffer's bounced back with a tally in the top of the seventh on singles by Bill Ferguson and Wayne Hahn to tie the tilt at 1-1.

John Carter belted a two-run homer in the last of the seventh to drive in Dick Andric, who had walked, with the winning run.

Browns Meet 49ers Sunday

Replacement for Hickerson Big Problem for Brown Now

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—"Nothing showed up that we can't correct," said Coach Paul Brown after viewing films of the Cleveland Browns' exhibition game which they lost to the Detroit Lions, 35-7.

"Loss of Gene Hickerson, of course, is another thing," Brown said Sunday "We've spent most of the weekend talking about a replacement."

Hickerson, a right guard, suffered a broken leg in the game and is in a Detroit hospital. Hickerson and John Wooten ran in the plays. With Hickerson out, the slot ends probably will become the play carriers.

Coach Brown might be able to fill the gap by acquiring an older experienced lineman who is believed to have only a year or two left from a team in the rebuilding process.

Either Larry Stephens or Ed Nutting will start work at guard today. This was made possible with the reactivation of Lou Groza to handle the place-kicking and serve as the extra offensive tackle.

Brown said watching the movies made him think at times that the Browns should have been winning the game. The offense moved the ball well and the defense against running was great, he said.

Actually, the Browns made 332 net yards to 203 for the Lions—178 to 47 by rushing and 189 to 156 by passing. Cleveland quarterbacks lost 35 yards throwing the football, however, while Detroit didn't lose a yard.

The Browns take on the San Francisco 49ers next Sunday afternoon in an exhibition game at Kesar Stadium, and while in California will play an exhibition game against the Los Angeles Rams.

Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle already are chipping away at Babe Ruth's wild September surge of 1927. The New York Yankees' D-D boys have 45 home runs with 15 to go to tie the record.

The Babe didn't hit No. 45 until Sept. 6, the year he set the all-time mark with 60 homers. It was his second of 17 in that famous September stretch drive that always has frustrated the most determined challengers.

Maris and Mantle now are 15 games ahead of Ruth's pace. He hit his 45th in game No. 132—including one tie—and they have 45 in 117 games (also including one tie).

Although Maris and Mantle each homered in the first game at Washington Sunday, it didn't mean a thing. The Senators handed the Yanks a 12-2 beating on Benny Daniels' five-hitter. Maris came through again in the second game, won by the Yanks' Jim Coates 9-4.

Despite the split, New York stretched its American League lead to 3½ games over the Detroit Tigers, who absorbed a 13-5 battering at the hands of the Minnesota Twins. Bill Tuttle hit a grand slam homer and drove in six runs for the Twins.

Baltimore, 11 games back, edged Boston 6-5 in 11 innings when relief pitcher Arnold Early threw away a sacrifice bunt for a two-run error Steve Barber struck out 11 but walked 11 in a route-going effort.

Aparicio Paces White Sox
Little Luis Aparicio had a big day for the Chicago White Sox with three hits, four runs and two stolen bases in a 9-3 victory over the Kansas City A's.

Washington sent 11 men to the plate and scored six runs in the sixth inning of the opener to break open a 1-1 tie Chuck Hinton and Jim King hit homers for the Senators, and Bob Johnson had two doubles before 27,368, largest Washington crowd of the year.

Orioles Win on Wild Throw
Boston and Baltimore were tied 3-3 after nine and each scored once in the 10th The Red Sox got another in the 11th but lost when Earley fielded Russ Snyder's sacrifice bunt and threw the ball over the head of third baseman Frank Malzone, permitting two runs to score Mike Fornieles, who put the two runners on base on singles, was the loser.

Eljer Clips Winona 6-4 In Exhibition On Stoddard's Hit
Gary Stoddard smacked a two-run homer in the last inning to give Eljer a come-from-behind 6-4 victory over Winona, champions of the United Little League, in a Class F exhibition game played at Memorial Park Saturday.

Stoddard also pitched the win for the Salem team as he came into relieve Chuck Montgomery in the first inning after Winona collected three runs on three walks, an error and no hits.

Winona came into the fray with an unbeaten 20-0 record in league play. The losers capped one tilt in district tournament action before bowing out. This makes the second time this year that Winona has tasted defeat. Eljer is 8-6 on the season.

Eljer came back with two tallies in the second inning on a walk, a single by Joe Shivers and a two-run double by Larry Uphold. Winona added its final tally in the sixth frame on two Eljer miscues and a single by Larry Lance to tie the game.

The winners moved into a 4-3 lead in the sixth inning on a single by Stoddard and a double by Ray Votaw. After Winona tied the tilt the stage was set for Stoddard's homer.

Stoddard paced the win with three hits while Joe Rottenborn added two safeties for the winners. Stoddard fanned nine batters in grabbing the win.

D. Holmes and Marty Briceland led the losers with two hits apiece. Briceland absorbed the loss for Winona.

George Begalla hurled Famous Market to a 3-0 victory over the E. W. Bliss nine on a two-hitter in Class E play Sunday and Class G league-leader Firemen dropped the National Cleaners, 5-1 in one of three Hot Stove League games played Saturday.

In the other Class G tilts played Saturday Dick Walker served up one hit but the Italian Club got nipped, 7-6 by Hunt's Ind. Union and Petrucci's defeated the Lions Club, 15-9.

Famous Market took a 2-0 lead in the first frame on two walks a single by Begalla and coasted into its victory. The winners added their third tally in the fourth frame on an error and a single by D. Will.

Hilton Moffett and J. Steele rapped the only hits off of Begalla who walked five and fanned four. Steele also hurled a two-hitter for the Bliss aggregation but in a losing cause.

Lou Markovich clouted a two-run homer in the first inning to push the Firemen into a 2-0 margin and the game.

National Cleaners, who out hit the winners, 5-4, tallied its lone run in the sixth inning on singles by Ralph Gabriel and Bill Sutter. Pacing the Firemen attack was Ron Bezeredi with two of the four Firemen hits. Bob Bentley was the winning pitcher.

West Branch Grid Team Kickoff Boosters Drive
A door-to-door canvass will be conducted by the members of the West Branch High School football team Wednesday to kickoff the West Branch Booster Club's campaign to enlist backers for the athletic activities of the school.

The Booster Club is soliciting members to help aid three main projects that the club has undertaken for this year. The first is to help the athletic department pay for new football uniforms that cost $2,200; secondly, issue football programs for all games, and thirdly, sponsor the annual "Dad's Day" during the grid season.

Numerous other fund raising projects are planned by the club this year to help defray the school district's indebtedness for athletics.

Officers for this year are Ken Schoen, president; Howard McGaffick, vice-president; Robert Morrow, secretary, and Bruce Bayless, treasurer.

Morris Oil, Fordees Rout All-Stars

Leetonia — Washingtonville Hot Stove League champions, Fordees in Class F and Morris Oil-Main St. Market in Class G easily disposed of All-Star teams representing their respective leagues in two battles played Sunday in Leetonia.

Fordees rolled over the Class F All-Stars, 15-6 while Morris Oil-Main St. Market routed the Class G All-Stars, 19-2. Fordees is now 14-2 on the season and Morris Oil is 14-1 overall.

Fordees scored a run in every inning as it racked up 13 hits. The winners scored two in the fourth, sixth and ninth frames and iced the contest with four tallies in the seventh.

The Class F All-Stars managed to tally twice in the seventh and ninth innings as they collected six hits in the tilt and committed six errors.

Pacing the Fordees attack were George Bell and Ray DiCross with three hits apiece. Jack Falzetta smashed a home run and a single for the winners and also got credit for the win, fanning 13 batters.

David Conrad rapped three hits for the All-Stars in a losing cause. Three 'Stars' hurlers combined to strike out 12 batters.

Morris Oil-Main St. Market tallied in every inning but the fourth and eighth as the winners jumped to a 5-0 lead in the first frame and continued to pour it on, finishing up with a seven-run spurt in the seventh inning.

Latman Knocked Out of Box

Indians Fall 8-7 To Los Angeles

CLEVELAND (AP)—Barry Latman, who went the distance in three of his four starts in the first three weeks of July, hasn't hurled a complete game in five starts since July 19.

The Cleveland right-hander also hasn't won a game since that date, when he ran his record to 9-0 with a 4-1 decision over the Boston Red Sox in the opener of a doubleheader here. He has lost three of his last five starts and was not the pitcher of record in the last two.

Latman went 6 1-3 innings Sunday as the Los Angeles Angels beat the Indians 8-7, but the loser was Frank Funk (11-9), who forced in a run with a walk and then gave up a grand slam homer to Joe Koppe.

Koppe's grand slam was the first of his career and his third homer of the year.

Latman took a 5-2 lead and a four-hitter into the seventh inning and seemed about to snap his three-game losing streak. Ken Hunt led off with a single, but rookied Tom Satriano bounced into a force play at second. Del Rice walked and then pinch-hitter Albie Pearson singled to load the bases.

Funk came in and walked Steve Bilko to force in a run. Then Koppe picked a 3-2 pitch to hit his grand slam into the lower left field stands. Funk was relieved by Bob Allen, who stopped the rally.

Cleveland cut the Angels' lead to 6-5 with a run in the bottom of the seventh.

The Angels scored the decisive run in the eighth when Satriano walked, went to third on a single by Rice and then stole home. A solo home run by Cleveland pinch-hitter Walter Bond in the eighth ended the scoring.

John Romano doubled in two runs for the Tribe in the fourth inning, and Kirkland drove in three more with a bases-loaded double in the fifth. The Angels scored their first two runs in the fifth.

The Indians are idle today. They open a three-game series with the Boston Red Sox here Tuesday night.

their attempt to help themselves."

One intent of the declaration is to extend lightning aid to countries in dire straits, where the political threats engendered by economic woes are great. By unanimous vote — with Cuba's economic chief, Ernesto Guevara, abstaining—the main committee of the conference accepted Kennedy's pledge of more than a billion dollars by next March for Latin America's most depressed area. The pledge is being incorporated in the final act of the Punta del Este meeting.

The United States plans to pour more than a billion a year for the next 10 years into Latin American development. It hopes this will be swelled to a total of $20 billion by other foreign aid sources, including private investors and governments of Europe and Japan.

One big question remained as the 12-day conference drew to a close—and it makes little difference which way it finally is answered. That is whether the Castro regime will sign the final declaration.

Salem City Hospital Candid Observations

(Twenty-fifth Article of a Series on Hospital Information)

VARIATIONS IN $

Every year in August, the American Hospital Association publishes a hospital directory with statistics on hospitals. We took the liberty of using some of this information this year on hospitals in northeast Ohio to make a comparison: the results are almost fantastic.

Our comparison involves the payroll figures for nine hospitals of 100 to 200 beds in northeast Ohio. Please keep in mind that the pay scales in this area are relatively the same. The only adjustment necessary is for the difference in patient volume. This adjustment we made so that we could get a direct comparison. Here it is:

	Payroll % Too High	Payroll $ Too High
Hospital B	14.6%	$124,538
Hospital C	4.1%	$35,916
Hospital D	34.0%	$353,940
Hospital E	0	0
Hospital F	27.1%	$283,737
Hospital G	28.8%	$271,008
Hospital H	27.0%	$336,690
Hospital I	26.3%	$272,468

If we assume that hospitals A and E have sufficient personnel (incidentally they are both fully approved by the Joint Commission on Hospital Accreditation for high professional standards and adequate qualified personnel), then we must assume that the others are using excessive numbers of unnecessary personnel. This can and often does happen in hospitals since there are no agreed upon staffing patterns. But if hospitals are becoming business-like isn't it time that they dig in and adopt business-like standards of labor and supplies.

In commercial businesses that have similar units spread around an area, viz., supermarkets, radio and TV, and some industrial plants, the home office may allow a 2% variation in payroll between units. Imagine what would happen if the hospital management had to answer to such a hierarchy or to stockholders.

Recently, Blue Cross of Youngstown published the fact that medical care under our voluntary system costs the working man less than it does under the compulsory system in England, Wales, France, and West Germany. If we improve upon our system, as obviously we can, medical care would cost even far less.

if he were going to seek re-election and added: "I don't know if I'll run or not."

In answer to a "why not?" from the audience, the governor replied:

"This program of ours is so important that if I feel I can do better by going out and telling the people the true story I'll take a year off and visit every village and town in Ohio and tell that story. Drive every Republican out of office everywhere in the state. They don't belong."

"I'm not talking about the neighbor next door to you who is a Republican. I'm talking about the hard-core Republican politician who has to be defeated. I'm not going to give up this fight for the people of Ohio."

Following his speech DiSalle made a tour of the lake shore in Eastlake, inspecting erosion damage to homes and property, and then flew back to Columbus.

popular explosion against the measures taken by the East German Communist regime.

These measures were imposed early Sunday, Berlin time, and were not unexpected in Washington. Officials here said East Germany has been losing thousands of skilled and potentially skilled workmen and that the whole Communist bloc, including the Soviet Union, has suffered great embarrassment because of the flood of refugees. Rusk touched on this point in his statement.

"The pretense that communism desire only peaceful competition is exposed," he said. "The refugees, more than half of whom are less than 25 years of age, have 'voted with their feet' on whether communism is the wave of the future."

Rusk declared that Communist authorities have denied the right of self-determination to the people of East Germany and "are now denying the right of individuals to elect a world of free choice rather than a world of coercion." He said the Communists themselves are to blame for the dangerous situation which has suddenly built up over Berlin—months in advance of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's threatened signing of a separate peace treaty with East Germany.

The fact is, Rusk said, Khrushchev's threats against "the freedom and safety of West Berlin," which is the main escape route from East Germany, have created a state of tension that stimulated the flight of refugees far above the normal level of recent years.

Rusk denied that the Western powers are in any way responsible for the massive exodus. He said the refugees have not responded "to persuasion or propaganda from the West but to the failures of communism in East Germany."

Regarding the action of the Communist authorities in imposing travel restrictions, Rusk declared that was "a violation of the right of free circulation throughout the city."

Some routine matters also will be discussed, County School Supt. James L. McBride said.

al with lacerations of the scalp, face and multiple abrasions, and possible fractures of the left ankle and left shoulder suffered in a one-car mishap on Rt. 18, a mile and a half west of Rt. 45, at 3:30 a.m. today.

The patrol said Gorgei was traveling east on Rt. 18 when he went off the right side of the highway, struck a mail box and continued on into a utility pole.

Five persons were treated at Salem City Hospital and released following a two-car crash on Rt. 7, just south of Rogers, at 10:25 p.m. Sunday.

Injured in this accident were: James Murphy, 35, of Washington, Pa., lacerations of nose, left eye and lip.

All five of the injured were in a parked car which was struck by another auto operated by Jo Ann Jones, 49, of Youngstown. She was cited for reckless operation.

Fritz Turri, 46, of Alliance, is in good condition at the Central Clinic with lacerations of the scalp, contusions of the forehead and abrasions of the body. He was a passenger in a car which collided with an auto operated by a Salem man on Rt. 62, about a mile west of here at 10:25 p.m. Sunday.

Turri was a passenger in a car driven by Donald E. Baxter, 26, of Alliance. The patrol said they were headed west on Rt. 62 when they came up over a hill, started down grade and ran into the rear of a car operated by Harold E. Borton, 38, of 157 W. 5th St. Baxter was cited by the patrol for reckless operation.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Charles Cranston, 70, of Sebring, which met another car on a curve and was crowded into a concrete abutment, the patrol reported. Cranston was not injured.

Four persons were injured, including an expectant mother, when a car ran into the side of a train on Rt. 72, a mile east of the Columbiana-Stark County line, at 2:38 p.m. Saturday.

Steve Palagyi, 49, of Maple Heights, a crew member on the train, contusions of the back.

The injured were taken to Alliance City Hospital.

The patrol said Donald Farnsworth was driving west on Rt. 172 and struck the second of two engines on the train at the unguarded crossing. A section of the tracks was torn up, derailing the caboose in which Palagyi was riding.

The driver said a field of tall corn helped obscure his vision as he approached the crossing.

B-52, Tanker Land Safely After Crash

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—For 20 tense minutes, two damaged jets—a bomber and a tanker—circled high above the Pacific after colliding.

Their skippers talked by radio with Air Force brass and engineers from the company that made the planes, trying to decide whether to ditch 50 miles off the coast or try to land at Mather Air Force Base near here.

The Air Force Sunday revealed these details of the collision, which occurred at 4:55 p.m. Saturday.

Finally, the planes were ordered to Mather. They landed successfully and none of the crew was injured.

Col. Merrill N. Moore told how the KC135 tanker and the B52 bomber tangled but declined to say if the B52 carried nuclear weapons.

"We have occasional missions out of here with thermonuclear weapons," he said. "I can't say whether this plane carried them."

The tanker had fueled the bomber when one of its crew members noticed smudges on the B52's left wing, Moore related.

Lt. Col. Garland J. Smith of Sacramento moved his tanker close to the bomber to take a look.

He had been asked to do this by Capt. Charles B. Layton of Sacramento, pilot of the B52.

The crash ripped two-thirds of the stabilizer section of the tail assembly from the B52 and tore away an engine from the four-engine KC135.

Eichmann

then adjourned the court. There was no indication as to why a verdict would be delayed until November. One had been expected in October.

Eichmann sat immovable during his counsel's summation of his defense.

As the judges retired to begin considering their verdict, Eichmann was led from the glass prisoner's dock where he has sat at all sessions since the first one April 11.

Police reinforcements around the building indicated Eichmann soon may be moved back to the small prison near Haifa where he was held after his capture by Israeli agents in Argentina in May of 1960. He has occupied a cell in the court building during the trial.

In his summing up, Servatius insisted that Eichmann was bound by an oath of loyalty and by orders from the state.

"If what the prosecution says is correct, then all the Nazis still being hunted can come out of hiding," Servatius declared.

"The great guilty one has been found—Adolf Eichmann."

The stocky, white-haired defense attorney challenged the authority of the special three-judge tribunal to try Eichmann for crimes against the Jewish nation. "Since Israel did not exist as a nation at the time of Eichmann's activities, there could have been no crime against the Jewish nation," Servatius declared.

He also claimed the prosecution had failed to prove Eichmann:

1. Was an accomplice in the murder of the Jews.
2. Transferred gold teeth and hair of extermination victims to Germany.
3. Had a hand in the sterilization of Jews.

2 Traffic Mishaps

Probed by Police

No one was injured in two minor accidents that occurred on city streets Sunday, police reported.

An auto operated by John Porter, Jr., 44, of Ironton was stopped for a traffic light at the intersection of W. State St. and Howard Ave. when it was struck in the rear by a vehicle driven by Frank Dancho, 39, of Allison, Pa. at 8:22 p.m.

Dancho was cited for not stopping in the assured clear distance. He was fined $10 and costs in Mayor Dean Cranmer's court.

An auto driven by Arnold A. Dickey, 19, of RD 5, Salem, and a car operated by Howard C. Henry, 55, of Akron collided at the intersection of W. State St. and N. Ellsworth at 2:58 p.m.

Berlin

ate by cutting off the $490-million annual trade between West and East Germany. These sources said as the restrictions on movement in Berlin were a violation of the U.S.-British-French-Russian agreements, it was up to the Western Big Three to do something about the situation, not West Germany.

Mathias Walden, political commentator of the West Berlin radio station, in a special broadcast to East Germans appealed to them to be patient and not to be carried away by events.

The East German travel restrictions were aimed at halting the flight of refugees to the West and forcing East Berliners working in West Berlin to swell East Germany's below-strength labor force.

West Workers Unaffected

The ban did not apply to the 15,000 West Berliners who work in East Berlin or to traffic between West Germany and West Berlin, including the supply line to the Allied garrisons that Soviet Premier Khrushchev wants to force out of the city.

Both the United States and Britain planned formal protests to the Russians.

In Washington, Secretary of State Dean Rusk denounced the new division of Berlin as a "flagrant violation" of Soviet agreements with the Allies to treat the city as a single unit. Moscow in the past has rejected such protests and shunted them to the East German regime, which the Western powers do not recognize and refuse to negotiate with.

In Bonn, the ambassadors of the Western Big Three and the West German government called the halt of the refugee flow by the Communists the "most serious breach to date" of the four-power agreements on Berlin.

"We take an extremely serious view of it," said U.S. Ambassador Walter C. Dowling after a 50-minute meeting with British Ambassador Sir Christopher Steel, French Ambassador Francois Seydoux and West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano.

Informants reported the three Allies had prepared protest notes to the Russians and probably would send them off later today. These informants said other measures would follow in rapid succession but their nature would depend on the Soviet reaction to the notes.

Western intelligence sources said they were unable to confirm rumors that the Soviets had concentrated — or were massing — troops around Berlin even though some of the 22 Soviet divisions in East Germany are known to be stationed in the vicinity of Berlin.

When the workers rose up against the East German Communist regime July 17, 1953, Soviet tanks quickly went into action and put down the revolt.

East Berlin swarmed with uniformed men—soldiers, police border guards, and militiamen of the so-called workers' fighting groups — equipped with tanks, light artillery and infantry weapons.

A military field kitchen was set up in Pariser Platz — Paris Square — just behind the historic Brandenburg Gate, the famed landmark that cuts the main street of the East and West sectors.

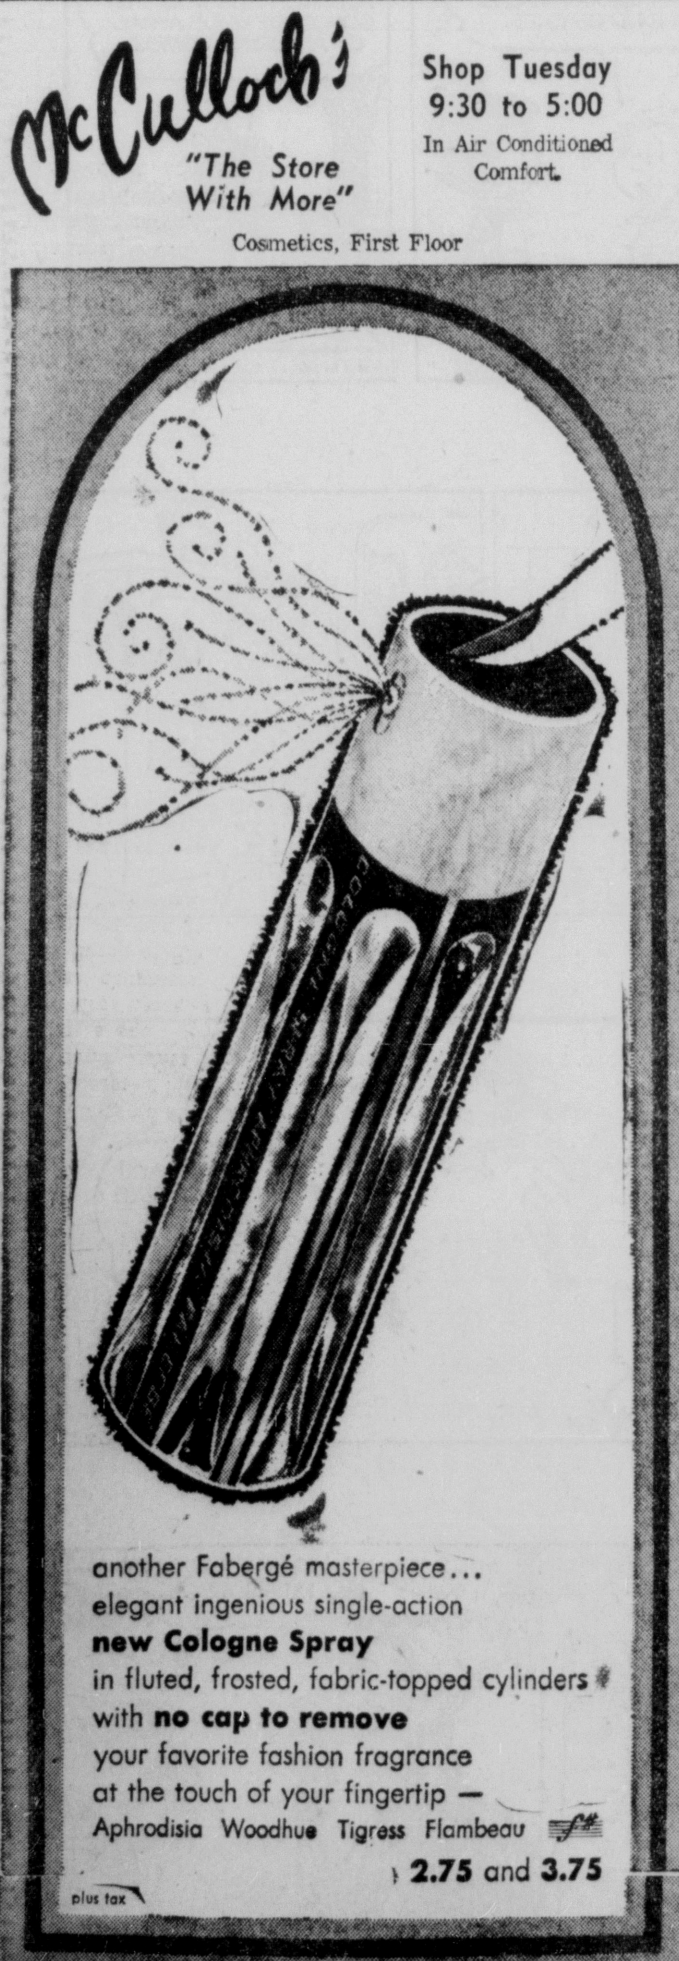

Armored cars with mounted machine guns were posted at key points. But hundreds of soldiers in the Soviet-style uniforms were seen just squatting around and looking rather disinterested in the commotion. Many were reading extra editions of Neues Deutschland, the official East German Communist organ, which carried details of the border closing.

All but one of East Berlin's stations for the elevated railway and subway to West Berlin were closed and under heavy guard. The one station open was for West Berliners only. It swarmed with police on the lookout for East Berliners.
